

WEST Ham super striker David Cross has signed for Match

And today we begin his dramatic Weekly! life story — plotting the 30-year-old striker's rise from obscurity to stardom.

From humble beginnings at lowly Rochdale as a raw 18-year-old, David has emerged as one of the game's great goalscorers with one of the most fashionable clubs in the country.

He tells it all in Match, where he has joined a star-studded team that includes England stars Kevin Keegan, Paul Mariner, Glenn Hoddle, and Steve Coppell and Scotland's World Cup star Graeme Sources Souness

This week David recalls how he stumbled into professional football at the age of 18 and the part he played in Rochdale's finest

Noel Cantwell . . . he was the first famous football figure to give me a boost when he was manager of Coventry.

UNLIKE most boys I never actually considered becoming a professional footballer.

Although I played for the district boys team in my native Heywood in Lancashire, I was never offered trials by any of the leading clubs in the area and that tended to confirm my belief that football wouldn't be my profession.

In fact, I was probably the only lad in the side that wasn't approached, yet, as it turned out, I'm the only one who has made a name for himself.

In the end it was Fourth Division Rochdale who eventually invited me down for training sessions and I was quite satisfied with that arrangement for my intention at the time was to go to university. But, after getting 'A' levels in history and geography, I decided to ditch my university plans.

On the day I told the headmaster l was quitting school, Rochdale coach Gordon Hurst overheard me telling a colleague about it at training and he informed manager Len Richley.

As a result, I was summoned to the manager's office and he offered me professional terms. So that was how I literally stumbled into the world of professional football.

Before that I was quite happy picking up 'ten bob' expenses from playing with Rochdale Reserves on a Saturday afternoon. At the time I thought that was great.

Rochdale clinched promotion that season (1968-69) and I reported for full-time training in the summer, by which time Dick Conner had taken over as manager.

He governed my attitude because I was never determined to be a professional footballer like a lot of boys.

You now get lads of 13 joining big clubs and they feel sure they are going to be footballers because they've been picked up so young.

MY PART IN ROCHDALE'S FINEST HO

THE biggest day in Rochdale's history came on January 11, 1971, when we knocked First Division Coventry City out of the FA

It was only my second season in League football and I received national recognition for the first time by scoring one of the goals in our shock 2-1 win at Spotland.

The match was played on a Monday afternoon because the then Coventry manager Neel Cantwell had objected to our floodlights for some unknown reason.
Before the game Neel, who I had seen play for Manchester United, had mentioned me in the ndtional press, saying that the 'big boy Cross' could cause a few problems for

That kind of recognition was great for me because it was the first time I had received such a boost from a well-known football figure. To cap it all, I played quite well that afternoon and scored the first goal. It helped my confidence to know that I could score goals against top class opposition.

The 14,000 crowd-Rochdale's biggest for years — went wild when I scored, but after Coventry had equalised I thought they would swamp us. As it turned out Dennis Butler snatched our winner to complete a great day for the club.

Noel Cantwell had criticised Rochdale before the game and we were extra keen to get back at him, so it was a great feeling when we had beaten them.

Jeff Blockley marked me that day and, though I didn't know at the time, within three years I was to be part of the Coventry set-up myself.

Our cup glory was rather shortlived. In the next round we came crashing down to earth with a 5-0 defeat at Colchester following a 3-3 draw at Spotland.

 HARSH ****

But that was never part of my make-up because I didn't sign for a club until I was 18.

Dick Conner was a very harsh man because, having been a good player himself, he didn't suffer fools, and when I joined straight from school, I couldn't play to his standards.

He frightened me at times with his bullying, but on reflection that kind of harsh approach was what I

At that age, that kind of rough attitude was either going to kill or cure me. Luckily it cured me and I didn't give up.

Dick was a very constructive coach, but he lived on a short fuse all the time.

SIGNS FOR MATCH bullied

Rochda

When Peter Madden, the current manager (incidentally, Dick Conner is now back as assistant manager), joined the coaching staff he was completely different. He would put his arm around me and persuade me to do this or that and that kind of approach also helped.

So I have a lot of time for both men because in their different ways they set me on the right road l'il always remember my first day as a professional footballer. It poured with rain and we returned from the moors soaked to the skin.

Bobby Downes, who joined the same day after spells with West Brom and Peterborough, told me that at Peterborough they always had a change kit for the afternoon

But that wasn' the case at Rochdale as I quickly found out.

Bobby Downes, the former Watford and Barnsley forward, joined Rochdale on the same day as myself.

everything

We had to hang our kit on the hot water pipes in the boiler room, and then put it back on again a couple of hours later.

Looking back, the facilities weren't that good, but it was all I knew at the time.

I was substitute for the opening game of the season and I came on for the last ten minutes in the 3-0 home defeat by Orient who went on to win the Third Division title

My first goal came in the 2-1 home defeat of Plymouth when I came on as substitute just before half-time, but my full League debut was in the 1-1 home draw with Southport in February.

I played reasonably well that day which surprised me because I was very nervous having spent all week worrying how I would cope playing 90 minutes at a level of soccer that was new to me.

It was described in the local press as a 'promising debut'. I was never a prolific goalscorer at Rochdale - as my record of 21 goals in 59 League games shows — because I didn't have the awareness that I have now.

I have never taken anything for granted, unlike some of today's apprentices who are rather cocky and flash on the ball.

I often wonder what's going to happen to them if they don't make it with a big club and have to go to a place like Rochdale.

They won't know what's going on because they have always been used to the best.

I'm not saying that my arrival in football was the right method, but starting at a club like Rochdale suited me at the time.

I'm sure that if I had joined a club like Manchester City or Manchester United as an apprentice I would have been lost and after a year would probably have hated it so much that I would have thrown in the towel, mainly because the other youngsters would have been a lot better than

But at Rochdale I was doing things and getting into the first

I enjoyed it at Rochdale and I owe them everything for the start they gave me in professional football.

1,000 beers on Watford

MORE than 1,000 free pints of Benskins beer and one pint of lemonade were drunk in celebration of Watford's 3-0 victory over Orient.

Benskins, who own Watford's Vicarage Road ground, have just launched a new scheme called the Pennant Supporters Club at over 100 pubs in the Watford

Membership is free and if Wattord draw or win on a Saturday, members are entitled to a free pint the following Thursday

But John Barnes, whose two goals helped Wattord to their victory over London rivals Orient, had to be content with a glass of lemonade — he's only 17!

Rush breaks his duck.

IAN Rush has broken his League duck for Liverpool.

The former Chester striker scored his first League goals for the European Champions in the 3-0 home defeat of Leeds.

His two goals completed quite a week for the Welsh international who also scored two goals a few days earlier in the 5-0 League Cup drubbing of Exeter.

Right: Ian Rush -- broken his League duck for Liverpool.

Reward for unlucky Falco

MARK Falco, the unlucky 20-year-old striker whose goals have boosted Tottenham this season, has been named Robinson's Barley Water 'Young Player of the Month' by a national panel chaired by England manager Ron Greenwood.

Mark, who seems likely to miss the next three months with an ankle injury sustained in the eague Cup clash with Manchester United, will receive an inscribed silver salver and a cheque for £250 for the charity of his choice.

AIRDRIE may not be pushing for honours in the Scottish Premier Division, but their striker, Sandy Clark, is proving a problem for all the defences.

His hat-trick against Dundee, which included two penalties, took his League tally to ten in an Airdrie total of 12.

And half that total have come from the penalty spot! from the penalty spot!

Binney's back in business

FRED Binney, once the scourge of Third and Fourth Division defences, is back in business.

The 35-year-old Hereford coach came out retirement to help the club out of an injury crisis, and he duly scored to chalk up his 200th League and cup goal.

Fred scored with virtually his first touch after coming on as substitute.

The other goal came from John Dungworth, the £100,000 striker who has joined the club on loan from Second Division Shrewsbury.

Seven goal London treat

THE London Football Association celebrated its centenary with a seven goal bonanza at Highbury between a London XI and an England XI.

England took the honours 4-3 with goels from West Ham's Paul Goddard, Aston Villa winger Tony Morley, skipper Kevin Keegan and Liverpool's Terry McDermott.

The London goals came from West Ham skipper Billy Bonds, Fulham striker Gordon Davies and Queen's Park Rangers' defender Glenn Roeder.

PROGRAMME BONANZA

THE sixth Scottish Football Programme Fair is being staged in Glasgow on Sunday.

More than 2,000 enthusiasts are expected to visit the fair which is being held in the McLeilan Galleries, Sauchiehall Street, from 11 am to 4 pm.

Programme dealers and club souvenir shops from both sides of the border will be selling programmes and momentoes, alongside an exhibition of rare, historic and current programmes.

The Reds cash in EUROPEAN champions Liverpool will receive a cool £75,000 for playing the South American Cup holders in Tokyo in December for the unofficial World Club Championship.

That's their guarantee for the Sunday, December 13 showdown, and there could be more cash to follow from gate receipts and massive television rights.

Japanese car firm Toyota are again sponsoring the clash that had its inaugural outing last season when Nottingham Forest lost 1-0 to Uruguayan side Nacional.

Said Liverpool chairman John Smith: "We are certainly going all out to make this match in Japan the most memorable game in our history.

As yet, Liverpool's opponents are still to be decided.

Six teams are in the running. including last year's winners, Nacional.

The others bidding for the glamour trip are Deportivo Cali (Colombia), Club De Deportes Cobreloa (Chile), Penarol (Uruguay), Flamengo (Brazil) and Jorge Wilsterman (Brazil).

'I'm playing better than ever' — Gidman

JOHN Gidman, Manchester United's new full-back, says his summer move to Old Trafford from Everton has given him a new lease of life.

"I'm playing better now for United than I ever did for Everton," says the 27-year-old England international.
"It takes a while to settle in a side, but I've come here and already I feel completely at home. The players are great, not only on the field, but off it

Now John, part of a defence that's got the best record in the First Division, still hopes to get recalled to the England squad after a four-year absence

"I think sometimes you get a bit frustrated when you see the squads picked showing very little change each time," says the full-back who was involved in an exchange deal with Mike Thomas.

The crowd roared and I felt a tremendous Ine crowd roared and I fet a tremendous boost as I realised what that result meant — not just to the England team and to the fans in this country, but to me personally.

My dream of playing in the World Cup Finals for the first time — the dream I thought I had lost after our defeat in Norway — had been restored to me.

I thought we had blown it. I thought my chance of playing in the world's greatest football showpiece had gone. I wasn't an easy man to live with.

Now, as I sat in the changing rooms at Birmingham, ali that had changed. It was almost as if we had won instead of lost.

Naturally I was disappointed with the Saints result that day, but I certainly didn't feel as bad as I normally would have done in the same circumstances.

I suppose I shouldn't have been surprised. It's been a funny old group from the start.

I suppose I shouldn't have been surprised. It's been a funny old group from the start. There were never any real favourites to qualify ... not like in many of the other groups where you could see the likely qualifiers before a ball had been kicked. I don't mind a flutter, but I would not have put money on anyone in our group. You would have to be a fool to back any of the would have to be a fool to back any of the teams to go to Spain.

Even now we don't know how the group will stand when we play our last game against Hungary. I think the Swiss are well capable of beating Rumania again when they play on November 11 and if they do

It's certainly not over yet.

But I am sure England won't be going out against Hungary with a draw in mind. A win guarantees us a place in Spain and that's all the insertive apparent.

guarantees us a place in Spain and that's all the incentive any of the players needs.

Despite our setbacks against Switzerland and Norway, we know we are capable of beating Hungary.

They hold no fears for us and it is up to the players to make sure the game doesn't go like that vital qualifier against Poland in 1973 when we were so much on top but just couldn't get the goals to take us into the World Cup Finals.

A win of any kind would be tremendous, but to win in real style would be a bonus not just for the team and the manager but also for the fans.

also for the fans.

It would be fantastic to turn in the kind of performance that would make people in this country believe in us again, to show them what we are really capable of. That would be a super springboard to Spain.

We are due for a change of luck at Wembley. The pressure we have had on teams must soon be turned into goals—and I hope to play my part in doing that against Hungary.

I have heard people say that even if England do qualify for the finals they stand no chance at all in Spain. Don't you believe

To my mind there are three really outstanding teams in the world at the moment — Brazil, Argentina and West Germany. The 'big three' are all pretty much at their peak, especially West Germany who have been at the top for three or four years. These teams may even have reached their peak too soon.

After them, I believe we have as good a chance as anybody and better than a lot. There is certainly no other team for us to fear and there are some that we know we can beat

But even though we got the result we wanted in Israel it wasn't achieved without a rollicking from our manager Jock Stein. We'd started off slowly and Jock told us in no uncertain terms what he thought of our performance during the half-time break. We applied ourselves better after that and we applied ourselves detter that and should have won by more.

Our World Cup campaign had begun without me in Stockholm when Aberdeen star Gordon Strachan got us off to a dream start with the only goal of the game. Injuries have limited my World Cup qualifier appearances to four out of seven and that's Trafford, Saturday, Oct. 3, 1981.

IT was widely forecast the Sammy Mcliroy's place in the Manchester United midfield would be in danger following the £1,700,000 signing of England's Bryan Robson

But the Northern issiand international spily timed a brilliant hat-trick in the 5-0 rout of Wolves to coincide with the pro-match signing of the young West Brom

And the pick of the superbly taken trie was the ene that clinched his first-ever First Division hat-trick, a viciously structure 14 minutes from the end with United on the remoses.

The long-cerving United player cellected a neat lay-off from Garry Birtles and with time and room to manipulate a shooting position some 25-yerds from goal, he sent a dipping, swerving right loot drive posities growing stars of goalkeaper Paul Bradshaw. It put the loing on an outstanding of lolay by the lirish dynamo who had opened the floedgates at sarty as the ninth minute with a telling through one to enable Frank Stroteton to spen the scoring.

Sammy opened his own account after 21 minutes following a poor clearance by Peter Banish, and then left Paul Bradshew clutching thin air onch again on the hour with a superbly flighted hour with a superbly flighted free kick over the defensive well.

So it was certainly a day a remember for the likeable midfield star.

That was the week that was Match Weekly takes a fascinating look back at some at the memorable football events that look place this corresponding week in years gone by.

Nov. 4, 1973....

THE Brian Clough and Peter Taylor roadshow arrived at the traditionally reserved south coast resort of Brighton.

Brighton were struggling near the foot of the Third Division and chairman Mike Bamber saw the appointment of Clough and Taylor as the chance to build a great future for the club. Having resigned amid controversy at Derby a fortnight earlier, the now famous managerial team set about reviving the club's fortunes.

Their first game in charge, a goalless draw with York City, attracted a crowd of more than 16,000 to the Goldstone Ground — three times the normal gate and a clear illustration of their magnetic personalities.

Clough and Taylor kept Brighton in the Third Division, but they had to endure such embarrassments as an 8-2 home defeat by Bristol Rovers and a shock FA Cup first round exit at the hands of non-league Walton.

But the Brighton fans continued to come to the ground in droves with crowds regularly topping 15,000 despite the club's lowly position.

Within 15 months Clough was on the move again, this time to start the relationship with Nottingham Forest that was to bring him European Cup glory.

Alan Sunderland — transferred to Arsenal four years ago this week.

Sunderland moves for record fee

Nov. 7, 1977....

FRANK Stapleton and Alan Sunderland, the Arsenal strike force which was separated this season with the former's £900,000 move to Manchester United, have good cause to remember this particular week.

It was on November 7, 1977, that Alan Sunderland packed his bags at Wolves and travelled to the bright lights of London to join Arsenal for a then club record fee of £242,000.

It was the start of a productive striking partnership with Republic of Ireland international Frank Stapleton that brought them close on 100 League goals in four seasons.

Apart from that, Arsenal reached three FA

Cup Finals, winning one, and were runners-up in the European Cup Winners' Cup Almost exactly a year after Alan's arrival at Highbury (Nov. 4, 1978) Frank chalked up his first-ever League hat-trick in the 4-1 home defeat of lpswich.

Steve Powell - Derby hero in Spain seven years ago this week.

Powell salvages England's pride

Nov. 6, 4974....

STEVE Powell and Colin Boulton became Derby County heroes in Spain.

Steve was coolness personified with the penalty winner that took Derby into the third round of the UEFA Cup after a dramatic second leg conclusion against Atletico Madrid.

With the match locked at 4-4 on aggregate, it took a penalty fiesta to settle the Spanish showdown — and it was Derby who came out on top to salvage England's pride in Europe.
Dave Mackay's side won the penalty shoot-out 7-6 with Steve Powell scoring the winner and goalkeener Colin Boulton making a crucial save goalkeeper Colin Boulton making a crucial save from Eusebio to see Derby through. In the match itself Bruce Rioch and Kevin Hector had scored the Derby goals in a 2-2 draw — an identical result to the one at the Baseball Ground a fortnight earlier when David Nish and Rioch (penalty) were the home scorers.

But the coolness of Powell and the heroics of Boulton were all a dim memory a few weeks later when Derby bowed out to Yugoslav side Velez Mostar 5-4 on aggregate, despite winning the home leg 3-1.

Oct. 31; 4979....

FORMER Liverpool iron man Tommy Smith quit football on medical advice while with John Toshack at Swansea.

CRISIS TALK

NONSENS

EVERY time we lose a game at Ipswich there is always talk of a crisis.

it's a situation that has been suffered by Liverpool in recent

But following our 2-1 defeat at Everton, we received a public battering from manager Bobby Robson.

I don't know what the motives were for the blast, but I feel a mountain has been made out of a mole-hill.

Having been named the European 'Team of the Year' last season, we have set ourselves very high standards, as Liverpool have done in the past.

ladmit that we're not playing with the same fluency and style as last season, but we only lost two of our first ten League matches lpswich manager Bobby Robson — he gave lpswich a public battering after defeat at Everton.

and we are still among the pacesetters in the First Division.

So talk of a crisis at Portman Road is sheer nonsense and I can assure those doubting followers that loswich will be there or thereabouts at the end of the

But, unlike at Liverpool, It appears that all the dirty washing at ipswich has to be hung out in public, and that grates a bit.
Certain individual players are not playing to their full potential at the moment, but the balance of the side has been affected by the loss of Scottish striker Alan Brazil through injury.

We have reverted to a conventional 4-3-3 system which we haven't used for around three years and it takes time for the players to find their feet again. It has meant Eric Gates playing up front, instead of operating behind myself and Alan Brazil, with Kevin O'Callaghen playing wide.

But with George Burley on the way back from serious injury and Alan Brazil recovering from a foot operation, I'm sure our stutter is only a temporary one

I felt we played quite well in the first half at Everton even though we turned round 2-1 down.

We always looked like scoring als even though Eric Gates equaliser was rather scrappy.

But our game fell spart in the second half, mainly in midfield and up front, and therefore pressure as put on our defence.

By the time you read this article, no doubt there will have been plenty of talking behind the scenes, but I can tell you now there is no crisis at Portman Road

You ask, Paul 🎚 answers

CHERYL Bacon, of Ipswich, aska: Whenever skipper Mick Mills or yourself are not playing, who captains the side?

PAUL: "That's only happened once, Cheryl, and that was in the UEFA Cup tie in Poland last season when Mick wan't playing and I was forced to leave the field ten minutes from the * and.

"Then my of the game with injury, so I don't know who would get the job if it happened now." was handed to George Burley. He get the journal happened now."

MY SECRET DREAD

MILLION-pound striker lan Wallace has told of the secret dread that haunted him in front of goal. The flame-haired Scottish international scored just 13 goals in 49 games last season and he admitted:

There were times last season when I dreaded goalscoring chances coming my way in case I made a mess of them.

"At the time of my transfer I didn't think the £1 million fee bothered me, but now I'm sure that it did."

"Supporters, quite rightly, expect a lot from a player who costs that much and last season i didn't produce it.

'Thirteen goals in a season is not very many and aithough it's not for me to judge, I think a lot of Forest fans were wondering if I was worth the money."

Were there any doubts, most of them will now have been erased in the early part of this season with lan showing a dramatic return to the SCOTTISH League Cup winners Dundee United face one of the toughest tasks of Euro might when they attempt to pull back a two goal deficit against crack West German side Borussia Moenchengladbach.

The Scots looked to be in command of their UEFA Cup first leg in Germany — holding their opponents to a 0-0 draw until the 70th minute.

But they conceded two goals in the final 20 minutes of the game to give themselves an uphill battle in the return at Tannadice.

"Up to the final 20 minutes we played ever so well and had contained them," said their Scottish international defender Paul Hegarty.

"The Germans were very patient and never panicked, even when it looked as though time was running out for them. They continued with their slow build-ups.

"It surprised us a little because we thought they'd come out and attack more," said Paul.

"Playing against one of Europe's top sides really brought the best out of us and I thought we played really well.

"I think we surprised them on the night. They didn't expect us to play as well as we did.

"Of course we face a struggle in the second leg. We've got to get an early goal to make a game of it.

"But if we can do that I see no reason why we can't sneak a result," added Paul.

ARSENAL will be hoping to end their goal drought in time for the second leg of their UEFA Cup Second Round tie against Belgians, Winterslag.

The Gunners, who've struggled to score regularly since the departure of Frank Stapleton to Manchester United in the close season, have to score at least two goals to progress into the next round.

They lost the first leg in Belgium U on a rain-soaked pitch, but their Welsh international Peter Nicholas admits
We should really have come away with a lead. We missed a lot of good chances.

Having said that, going down

1-0 away from home isn't a bad result and I'm sure we can win the tie at Highbury. The conditions were awful on the night. It had rained for a full 24 hours before the game and the referee only decided to play after a final pitch inspection 15 minutes before kick-off."

The midfield star admits that before the draw for the Second Round was made he'd never even heard of Winterslag

But he'll remember them in future as a young side with plenty of skill

The record breakers

SMEFFIELD United have been involved in two record-breaking Fourth Division

made my day

MY most memorable day was on June 12, 1980, when I went on a trip with my team, Beacon Park Wanderers, to Oulton Park race track for a special Ray Clemence testimonial meeting.

My team was there as special guests of Hitachi and Liverpool because we were to receive some soccer kit from Ray Clemence.

Also present were David Johnson, Sammy Lee, Alan Kennedy, Mike Lyons and comedian George Roper.
The moment I'll never forget is when Ray and I faced the cameras. Ray said: "Smile kiddo."

I came back home with all sorts of prized possessions such as autographs, a signed print of Ray, photo's and best of all memories. Andrew Warrington, Handsacre,

Atkinson's big blunder

MAN. UTD manager Ron Atkinson made a mistake when he bought full-back John Gidman from Everton.

There was no need for him to go into the transfer market because he already had a very good full back on his books Northern Ireland international Jimmy Nicholl.
But that blunder was partly rectified by the signing of Frank Stapleton from Arsenal. We needed a big centre forward to replace Joe Jordan and Frank is one of the best.

Too optimistic

I WAS shocked by the comments of Manchester United midfielder Ray Wilkins following Switzerland's World Cup win over

Rumania. He said he felt that England could beat Hungary and even go all the way and win the World Cup in Spain. This was exactly the type of optimism taken before the Switzerland game . . . and where did that get us? Gary Martin (13), Garston, Watford, Herts.

chance of qualifying for the World Cup Finals in Spain. Once again we find that our destiny is in our own hands following Switzerland's fabulous victory over Ramania, it's crucial that England

manager Ron Greenwood selects the right side for this vital game against Hungary at Wembley on Wednesday November 18.

He surely knows now that the best 11 players in the country don't make the best team so he's got to pick players who he knows can play well together.

That's why I believe he should play a complete back four from one club — or as many as possible from one team. The same goes for the midfield and forwards.

He should know what team he's going to play before the players gather for their week of preparation and give that team se much chance to play together as possible.
If he does this I'm sure

England can win the game, restore pride in our national game and help us reclaim our rightful place on top of the football world.

Paul Mirfield, Morpeth, Northumberland.

WHO do you think Ron should pick for this vital game? Write in with your England team for our World Cup qualifier.

England defender Kenny Sansom.

Gunners have class

STOP slating Arsenal! They're not the boring team people think.

I'm a regular fan at Highbury and fail to see how a club with such talented players as Graham Rix, Kenny Sansom, Pat Jennings and David O'Leary can be classed as boring.

I bet that if they won 6-0 critics would still accuse them of playing defensive football.

. I know I'm a 'mere' girl but I can tell class when I see it! Paula Lindsay, Basildon, Essex.

l picked up a World Cup winners medel with England in 1966 and I am the only member of that victorious side still playing in the First Division. Now turn to page 43 to discover the identity of our mystery it was a relief when the axe finally came

DROPPED for the first time in my career at United and to be honest I was glad!

in a strange way it was a relief when United boss Ron Atkinson told me that he was leaving me out of the team to face Manchester City at Maine Road.

There had been a lot of speculation as to who would drop out of the side following the arrival Bryan Robaun and myself and Sammy Mcliroy were the main contenders.

I didn't like being dropped it made me angry. But as soon as Ron broke the bad news to me i made up my mind to fight for my. first team place back.

first team place back.
In retrospect I should never have played the first five or six games of the season. I wasn't fit and didn't do myself justice.
Of the games I've played when I've been fully fit i reckon I've had three good ones and three bad ones... no in-betweens.
When I was left out of the side it only added fuel to the wild rumours that I would be leaving Old Trafford as the manager tried

Old Trafford as the manager tried to balance the books after spending so much on new players.

These rumours have been horrible. Let me say here and new I don't want to leave Manchester United.

United.
My contract at Old T. doesn't and until July and I intend to see it through... In the first team!
Of course it's flattering when you hear that clubs like Arsenal, West Ham and Coventry are prepared to part with a lot of money to buy you, but that hasn't altered my determination to stay. I felt very proud that Dave

I felt very proud that Dave Sexton wanted me. No-one knows  other players in it someone ten playing well.

My spell in the wilderness didn't last long because I came on in the first half against City after an injury to striker Garry Birtles.
I kept my place for the game against Eirminghem and celebrated by scoring my first goal for 30 games.

for 30 games.

My last one was at Norwich City

ten months ago so you can imagine how I felt when I saw the ball in the back of the net.

Obviously my goal drought wasn't as important to the team as; Garry Birtles' goal-less spell, but now I know what he must have felt like.

The England and Manchester United winger writes exclusively for you and reveals the truth about his future at Old Trafford . . .

I'm expected to score between eight and ten goals a season so my lean spell was a little worrying. But Birmingham's Frank Worthington made a valid point after their 1-1 draw with us at Old Trafford.

The shrewd old campaigner said that United were going out onto the pitch expecting things to happen instead of trying to make: them happen.

With so many internationals in the side it's easy to fall into that trap and it's something we must guard against.

This Saturday sees us at home to First Division newcomers Notts

But it we're to stay up with the First Division's leading pack we've got to make sure they have a poor day and we collect three points at; their expense!

SPOTTHE BALL AND WIN_,

SUPER STRIKER SAYS SUPER STRIKER TREVOR FRANCIS.

"Here's all you have to do. This picture shows a Super Striker game in action. But we've carefully 'removed' the ball.

Use your skill and judgement to decide exactly where the ball should be. Take into account the position of the goalkeeper and your knowledge of Striker conditions.

Once you are sure, put a cross, in ink, on the spot where you expect the centre of the ball should be.

Now all you have to do is fill in your name and address, cut out the entry form and post it to the address below to arrive not later than December 31st 1981. Good luck!"

Post your entry to Super Striker Spot the Ball Competition, The Palitoy Co., P.O. Box 9, Baker Street, Coalville, Leics. The competition is open to all UK residents not connected with The Palitoy Company. The instructions above are a summary of the rules. Full rules will be supplied on request, please send S.A.E. to the competition address.

WATFORD -- riding high at the top of the Second Division - can only get

That's the view of their experienced Northern Ireland International Gerry Armstrong, who says "You haven't seen the best of us yet
"There's some young leds here with so much to offer that I believe we'll improve

as the season goes on '

as the season goes on "
And Gerry believes that youth, mixed with the experience of players like himself, skipper Pat Rice and defender lan Bolton, could push Watford into the First Division for the first time in the club's history "There's a tremendous squad of players at Vicarage Road and I believe we've got all the qualities to make a serious challenge for promotion

"It's essential that a club has strength in depth and players in the reserves who can come in to the first team without upsetting the rhythm. We've got that this season," said Gerry

Players like Martin Patching, Eric Steele,
Malcolm Poskett, Ray Train and Wilf Rostron have all made way for the youngsters who've given Watford their hest start for years

After ten matches the club found themselves battling with their neighbours and arch rivals Luton for the leadership of Division Two.

One youngster to quickly make his mark has been 17 year-old midfielder John Barnes Gerry says of him "He's got skill, balance and a natural left foot"

That 'natural left foot' had scored three times up to October 24, including two in Watford's 3 0 home win over Orient Continued Gerry "We knew from experience last season that Steve Terry was a capable sentral defender and he's was a capable central defender and he's proved it again this term while Steve Sims has been out '

Gerry knows all about what it takes to get out of the Second Division. He helped his previous club Spurs to do it in 1977.78, so his experience could be vital to the youngsters

"There's a lot of pressure on a youngster when he first makes it in the team. You find that they freeze because they're

They don't show what they can really do because they re too busy trying to do the right things

"I just encourage them to go out and be positive Play naturally and don't worry about the opposition — that sithe key."

And Gerry will be telling the young members of the team that they've got to battle to get out of the Second Division.

'It doesn't matter how much skill you've got. There are going to be games when

Steve Terry — he's done well while Steve Sims has been injured this season, says Gerry Armstrong

Spotlight on Watford - bidding for a place in Division One

you've got to fight hard
"When Tottenham won promotion we were the best footballing side in the division, but we still had to fight."

This season could turn out to be the most memorable of Gerry's career with Watford highly placed for promotion and Northern Ire.and favourites to join Scotland as their World cup group's representatives in Spain

'We've suddenly been pulled out of the fire by Sweden's great win in Portugal and now have a tremendous chance of going to the World Cup finals

'I've got everything to play for this

Setback for Greece

ITALY and Yugoslavia only need one point apiece from their final two games to qualify apiece from their final two games to quarry for the World Cup Finals from Group Five.

The joint leaders drew 1-1 in Belgrade and following Greece's surprise 3-2 home defeat by Denmark, they are virtually home and dry.
The Greeks had a chance to split the two

I ne Greeks had a chance to split the two favourites, but now seem to have lost their opportunity following the Danish defeat. They went down 3-2 in Salonika to goals from Lerby, Arnesen and Elkjaer. Greece's reply came from Kovis and Anastopoulas.

32 weeks to go...

ON the same night Scotland collected ticket to Spain, West Germany also qualified by virtue of their 3-1 win in Austria.

Two goals by Pierre Littbarski and another by Felix Magath maintained Germany's 100 per cent record in Group Schachner pulled one back for the Austrians who need a point in Bulgaria next month to guarantee their place in Spain.

Bulgaria kept alive their hopes with a 2-0 win in Albania, the goals coming in the second half from Slavkov and Mladenov.

If the Bulgarians defeat Austria in Sofia on November 11 then they would possibly qualify on goal difference without worrying about their last match in West Germany.

Pierre Littbarski -- his two goals helped West Germany power through to the finals.

Colombia fear disgrace

COLOMBIA'S elimination from the World Cup may have dealt a serious blow to their interest in staging the 1986 finals.

Many members of the South American country's parliament believe it would be a national disgrace to play second fiddle to other teams on their own soil.

As one member put it: "Unless we have a better national team, we would be spending large sums of money to pay for our own disgrace."

Most fans suffer from the nightmare that Colombia would automatically qualify for the 1986 Finals as hosts and then lose all their Colombia finished bottom of their qualifying section behind Peru and Uruguay.

Poland qualify

POLAND became the second European ieam to qualify for next year's World Cup finals in Spain.

They completed the double over their main rivals, East Germany, by winning 3-2 in Leipzig.

With only one team to qualify from Group Seven, they are now four points clear of the Germans who have just one game to play.

Medal for Maradona

DIEGO Maradona's first season with Boca Juniors, following his massive transfer from Argentinos Juniors, has ended with a League Championship medal. But how long Maradona stays abBoca is a matter of some speculation. The club can't really afford to keep the brilliant striker and are still striving to pay his transfer fee of more than £2 million.

Blow for France

FRENCH World Cup hopes could be hit by the continuing absence of star winger Dominique Rochteau — once the darling of St Etjenne.

A sequence of injuries and strains in his right leg have kept him out of the game since last season.

He seems certain to be out of action with his club, Paris Saint Germain and the national side, until at least Christmas
